LOWER BUTT-OX

SEX GAMES

THE OFFICIAL COMPETITION GUIDE

Nothing to Hide. Everything to Show.

Eight competitions. Eight distinctive challenges. One very unusual village tradition.

1. Welcome to the Games

The Lower Butt-Ox Sex Games give conventional sporting traditions an unapologetically adult, theatrical makeover. The programme is open to consenting adults, including village residents and visitors. The Village Games Committee organises the events, while the inimitable Dr Kinkie serves as official commentator and Master of Ceremonies.

The Games borrow the broad spirit of Chudai-style adult game-show entertainment: purpose-built screens, concealed pairings, playful uncertainty, audience complicity and competitions presented with the pomp and seriousness of a major sporting occasion.

The Chudai influence is deliberately visible in the presentation: purpose-built screens, apertures, concealed identities, independently allocated pairings, blindfolds and an audience that may know more than the contestants. Each event is staged as a cheeky adult game-show spectacle, with the ceremony of a televised sporting contest and the knowing mischief of a British seaside variety show. Lower Butt-Ox is its own fictional creation, not an official Chudai production.

2. General Village Games Regulations

Consent and eligibility

All participants must be consenting adults.

Participation is voluntary, and consent may be withdrawn at any time.

Anyone who withdraws may leave an event without penalty.

Natural appearance

Lower Butt-Ox celebrates natural bodies. Pubic hair is normal; shaving, waxing and trimming are not part of the village aesthetic.

Where an individual event specifies a natural-appearance requirement, it applies to that event's contestants.

No established partners

Participants may not be paired with a spouse, partner, boyfriend, girlfriend or established sexual partner.

Pairings are independently allocated and checked before each event; an accidental established-partner pairing is redrawn.

Blindfolds and communication

Blindfolds are used in events where specified, for the duration of the relevant round.

Contestants may communicate with Dr Kinkie and event officials throughout. Hands remain free unless an event's published rules say otherwise.

Privacy and fair competition

No photography, filming or recording without the explicit permission of everyone involved. An official DVD is made available with consent from participants and signed by Dr Kinkie.

The Committee oversees proceedings, verifies results, resolves disputes and declares winners.

Judges record scores, times and measurements according to each event's published rules.

Annual competitors' charter

Every participant registers and signs the current Games rules each year.

The annual declaration confirms that each competitor has read the general regulations and the specific requirements of every event they enter. Participants may withdraw at any time.

3. The Competition Programme

The running order below places the mixed-pair InterCourster event last as the grand finale.

GAME 1 — TEASE ME!

Four contestants. Four challengers. One winning pair.

Four female contestants take their positions behind a purpose-built screen with individual apertures for the face, breasts and vulva. Four male challengers take positions on the other side, each equipped with a specially made vibrator. The objective is straightforward: the first female contestant to reach orgasm wins the round.

Event format and requirements:

Four female contestants and four male challengers.

Contestants follow the natural-appearance requirement and wear blindfolds throughout the round.

Contestants' hands remain free and they may speak to Dr Kinkie.

Challengers cannot be established partners of the contestants.

Award / result: The winning contestant and challenger are declared the winning pair. The traditional prize is agreed in advance by the pair and presented as part of the event's celebratory finale.

GAME 2 — SIR SQUIRT-A-LOT!

Four challengers. Four contestants. Four trophy cups.

The companion event to Tease Me, with the arrangement reversed. Four male contestants take their positions behind a purpose-built screen with individual apertures for their faces and pelvic regions. Four female challengers take positions in front of the screen, each with an individual trophy cup. The objective is to achieve the greatest measured quantity of semen in the designated cup.

Event format and requirements:

Four male contestants and four female challengers.

Contestants follow the natural-appearance requirement and wear blindfolds.

Contestants' hands remain free.

Challengers cannot be established partners of the contestants.

Judges use the designated equipment and record the results.

Award / result: The winning challenger receives the official Sir Squirt-A-Lot trophy.

GAME 3 — THE SENSORY SAFARI

Four Explorers. Four Guides. One ultimate map.

Four blindfolded Explorers are independently allocated four Guides. Each Guide traces three secret patterns on designated body areas (e.g. breasts, bums, vulva, penis, testicles), using the event's agreed sensory materials and textures. Explorers identify each pattern to Dr Kinkie. The challenge tests recognition, memory and sensory awareness; arousal is not a penalty and does not deduct points.

Event format and requirements:

Four Explorers and four Guides.

All Explorers are blindfolded throughout the round.

Each Explorer must identify three secret patterns.

Explorers may speak freely with Dr Kinkie.

The permitted materials, contact areas and boundaries are agreed before the round.

Award / result: The first Explorer to identify all three patterns wins the Golden Feather Trophy with their Guide.

GAME 4 — CAN YOU TAKE IT ROUND THE BACK?

The posterior challenge.

A mixed-group competition using a specially constructed screen with apertures positioned for the participants' backsides. The event's anal-adult challenge may involve either a penis or a vibrator, according to the published entry rules. Judges assess the entries and determine the winning result. It is deliberately less formal than the other events, with Dr Kinkie treating the proceedings with his usual solemnity.

Event format and requirements:

A mixed group of consenting adult contestants.

The event uses the purpose-built screen and the published entry and judging rules.

All participants agree the permitted activity and boundaries before the event.

Award / result: The event awards the Your Anus Prize, the programme's deliberately outrageous accolade, named in honour of Lower Butt-Ox's celebrated pioneer of posterior astronomy. His immortal epitaph: “He spent his life looking at moons round Uranus.”

GAME 5 — RUB A DUB HOOPLA

It's not how you start, it's how long you last!

A fairground ring-toss competition with an unusual target. Competitors attempt to land as many rings as possible while the judges record the event's endurance and ring-toss results.

Event format and requirements:

Male contestants take their designated positions.

Competitors attempt to land as many rings as possible.

Judges record performance times and ring-toss results.

The final scoring and finishing procedure are confirmed in the event briefing.

Award / result: The longest-lasting valid performance, assessed alongside the published ring-toss scoring, determines the winner.

GAME 6 — MINI-GULF

Munch Your Way Around the Course!

A timed miniature-golf course with an edible twist. Competitors navigate a series of obstacles using edible sweet balls and adult-themed targets. The sweet balls are the course's unusual scoring pieces, with the designated target arrangement forming the central challenge.

Event format and requirements:

The course contains a series of challenging obstacles.

Competitors work against the clock.

The course uses edible sweet balls and adult-themed targets, including the designated anatomical target of the clitoris.

Every sweet must be accounted for and the event's stated completion requirement fulfilled for a valid result.

The non-partner pairing rules apply.

Award / result: The fastest valid completion wins. The final course layout and scoring details are confirmed before the event.

GAME 7 — THE TASTE TEST

You don't know who's judging you!

An anonymity-based event in which blindfolded male contestants receive oral attention from an anonymously allocated participant. Both male and female participants may take part. Contestants do not know whether their allocated participant is a woman or another man, and receive individual performance scores without being told the identity of the person awarding them.

Event format and requirements:

Contestants are blindfolded.

Participants are allocated anonymously.

Both male and female participants may take part.

Scores are recorded individually and the identity of the judge remains concealed from the contestant.

Award / result: Scores are announced without revealing the anonymous judge's identity. The audience knows; the contestant does not.

GAME 8 — NO COSTA - INTERCOURSTER!

The Grand Finale — peer review, performance assessment and mutual ratings.

The grand finale introduces a mixed-gender format and makes mutual peer review central to the competition. Two men and two women take positions behind the screen; two women and two men take positions outside it. Participants are independently matched across the screen. Following the round, each participant submits a confidential rating of their partner's performance. The combined mutual scores determine the winning pair.

Event format and requirements:

Two men and two women behind the screen, matched with two women and two men outside it.

Participants are independently allocated and may not be established partners.

Contestants behind the screen remain blindfolded for the round.

Full fluid intercourse is required with Dr Kinkie checking the dripping clitorises to make sure full penetration occurred.

Each participant submits a confidential score from 1 to 10.

Scores are recorded independently and combined to determine the highest mutual rating.

The screen is more than scenery: it is the visual signature of the Games. It conceals selected participants, frames the action for the audience and creates the contrast between what the contestants know and what the spectators can see. Dr Kinkie keeps the show moving with formal introductions, running commentary, announcements and trophy presentations.

Award / result: The winning pair receives the Masters of InterCourse trophy. The event closes the Games as the grand finale.

4. The Official Commentator — Dr Kinkie

No Lower Butt-Ox Sex Games would be complete without Dr Kinkie. Official commentator and Master of Ceremonies, he is present throughout the programme, microphone in hand and dressed in his trademark BDSM gear: a leather cock ring and nipple clamps. He introduces contestants, explains the rules, provides running commentary, speaks to blindfolded contestants, entertains the audience, announces winners and presents trophies. Dr Kinkie takes his responsibilities extremely seriously.

Introducing contestants and challengers.

Explaining the competition rules.

Providing running commentary and speaking to blindfolded contestants where the event allows.

Keeping the audience entertained.

Announcing winners and presenting trophies.

Dr Kinkie takes his responsibilities extremely seriously. The competitions themselves are, in his professional opinion, entirely beside the point.

5. The Village Games Committee

The Committee is responsible for competitor registration, annual rule sign-off, eligibility checks, independent pairings, event arrangements, judges, scorekeeping, disputes and awards. It ensures that all eight competitions operate under the general Village Games Regulations.

6. The Lower Butt-Ox Philosophy

Lower Butt-Ox is a fictional village where nudity is normal, natural bodies are celebrated and adult sexuality is not treated as a source of shame. The Sex Games combine the ceremony and organisation of traditional sporting events with the irreverence of adult game-show entertainment. Each competition has its own character, rules and place in village history.

The Chudai reference is part of the creative inspiration: the screen-based spectacle, anonymous pairings, audience awareness and exaggerated game-show presentation. Lower Butt-Ox gives that broad inspiration its own distinctly British village-comedy identity.

NOTHING TO HIDE. EVERYTHING TO SHOW.
